'SpaceWorks'

Office is the place where idea, creativity, innovation and success become real.

From here, we started the concept of 'SpaceWorks', the science of integrated solutions to create a modern office. It is a place where people work, meet and connect.

The way we work has changed. From the rise of mobile knowledge workers to generational changes and technological advances, many forces are continuously impacting how and where we work.

Nowadays, people can work more flexibly than ever before. To stay relevant in this fast-paced world, our work environments need to change.

The concept of 'SpaceWorks' will be the solution to create a Modern working environment by merging the modern spaces with the digital solutions, companies can give their employee the flexibility to work in the way that they need. Our variety of furnitures along with technology solutions designed to promote communication, movement and employee health.

Our solutions also support your people working on a diverse range of activities, from deep thinking to knowledge sharing and collaboration. As a result, the organization, can enhance the experience of the employees, leading to better them collaboration, more innovation, and more knowledge-sharing while decreasing office space cost which in turn boosts business performance.

WELCOME TO A

MODERN OFFICE

▼ we're entering the era of the modern smart office.

BUT WHAT DOES IT REALLY MEAN?

WHAT MAKES AN OFFICE 'SMART'?

Today's employees want to work in a way that suits them. Sitting or standing, a bustling central workspace or a smaller quiet space, indoor and outdoor areas, people want to move seamlessly between the buildings and spaces. Forward-thinking companies are creating flexible and modern spaces to increase collaboration and productivity. But they can do more. The office of the future is not just a beautiful building. It is a modern smart office.

It's about an integrated environment that combines thoughtful modern workspace and smart technology; forming a culture that enhanced productivity and employee experience to ▼ WORK smarter, better, and faster.

Round arc and soft edge shape, magnificent appearance, echo your status and personality Only intelligent desk can adapt to the office rhythm in the information age.

Theo

Modern Contemporary

The design of Theo series products draws lessons from the appearance characteristics of Lamborghini.

The whole shape adopts the form of multi-cut surface, with a little metal decoration.

With the irregular cutting of the table to create a flexible shape, And create an elegant appearance with the cutting of the board feet.

Multi-section table shape, dark metal decoration, together with neutral colors, To show a sense of composure in the lightness and thinness of the system. Such as Lamborghini generally shows the quality and fashion style.

Beautiful, convenient and sufficient office storage, perfect for daily office needs,
 Quiet track drawers, hidden main box storage and other equipment make the office environment more hommization and intelligent.

NEGOTIATING TABLE

The design of the external tension foot is more tension, which is also a new challenge in the structure.

The square and steady modeling and metal trimming combine together. Table is to fit small meeting room for 6-8 people.

MEETING TABLES

1) the conference table adopts the design elements of the class table, which not only meets the requirements of stable and atmospheric appearance, but also solves the inconvenience of the user's legs during the meeting.

2) customized special aluminum alloy sliding cover wire box is adopted to bring customers high-quality experience.

3) steel frame is built in the panel to enhance the stability of the structure.

Tao

Modern Contemporary

Starting with the name TAO, balance and rationality are the underlying principles of this new range of management office furniture. Tao represents exciting versatility in the search for balance, simplicity and sought-after rationality of design.

TAO contains both classic and modern elements integrating into one single range a product grounded both in tradition and highly innovative features. The result blends together two design concepts which have in common up-to-date design and the made-to-measure solution that today's workplace demands-flexible, customized and extremely functional.

TAO also offers a variety of additional elements and accessories which widen its possibilities beyond the essential management office needs to meet other functions of modern day office environments.

Sigma

Modern Contemporary

SIGMA has been created to meet the latest requisites of top design and practicality. It features soft and ergonomic lines, contrasting with its firm structure. The soft lines of this design create a new model with a glass top, adding a suspended support, a technical and appealing details, thus its obvious innate presence. Lightness and sturdiness finally combine.

Elegance enters the office with this exclusive ultra white glass, producing the right balance with its metal finishes. The meeting table with white glass top adds prestige to important moments, where appeal and top design play a decisive role in optimizing time and work.

The glass extension unit can also be supported by a leg or a drawer unit with adjustable position. Thanks to doors with aluminium frames, the storage areas also match this model in the scheme. The writing desk is completed with a touch of added privacy in its front modesty panel.

Modular table for important meetings and an extra detail : two units meet supported by a single leg, so all components can be used easily and comfortably in a space-saving area.

Meeting tables for small groups with 3 legs support organize the available space, determine the position or make the work surface available.

A square unit is introduced to provide space for files, ring binders or storage. The storage unit can extend horizontally or vertically, thanks to the arrangement of its separate units, It has adjustable supporting legs.
